Next-generation construction planner and services marketplace

Scalarcut is an independent digital assistant in your pocket, built for precise renovation planning, optimizing construction estimates, and transparent collaboration between clients and tradespeople.

What can the Scalarcut platform do?

Eliminate excess material orders: The algorithm calculates layout down to the millimeter and returns exact quantities of tile, adhesive, and consumables in pieces and bags. You order only what you actually need—no paying for surplus stock.

Protection from poor layout (Sliver Guard): The system automatically aligns joints and blocks narrow tile cuts (under 50 mm) in corners, ensuring a polished interior finish.

Intuitive landscaping design: Want to see how your yard could transform? Upload a photo from your phone, outline zones, and preview paving in real perspective. Add greenery—from stately thuja to ornamental shrubs—and place outdoor lighting to bring your future landscape to life.

Comprehensive, confidential construction expense tracking: Budget and expense management lets you control every penny. Log material costs, labor, and more to avoid surprise overruns and see the true cost of your build or renovation in real time.

Looking for a trusted contractor at a fair price?

You no longer need to search for tradespeople blindly or doubt their rates. Our Services Catalog brings together specialists ready to offer clear, transparent pricing. Compare offers, read reviews, and hire professionals to deliver your project.

Are you a professional tradesperson, designer, or landscaping agency?

Every day Scalarcut users create thousands of accurate estimates and landscape projects. Use our app as a powerful client-facing tool! Show customers the ideal result on site in five minutes—replacing costly, complex CAD systems.

- Register, subscribe, and appear automatically as a recommended contractor when users run calculations in your region.
- Generate professional Project Blueprints and send clients ready-made visualizations.
- Access a stream of hot leads and build client trust from the first conversation.
